

Maximize Your Land – And Your Profits

Gliderol Self Storage Solutions has introduced a new concept in relocatable, flexible and affordable self storage—External Modular Storage (EMS) units.

EMS units allow owners more flexibility than traditionally constructed building structures. Portable buildings are an attractive and cost-effective alternative to new constructions, particularly if you are in need of just a few more storage units. Because they are movable, they can be placed in areas where you would not traditionally build. In addition, portable structures may offer easier planning requirements.

Benefits:

- Short manufacturing lead time
- Movable by a forklift
- Can be built onsite or delivered pre-built
- Walls constructed from insulated steel composite panels
- Roof constructed with steel sheeting and factory applied anti-condensation vapour barrier or aluminum faced glass backed insulation
- Offers the look and design of a permanent structure with the flexibility of a portable
- Adaptable to odd size sites or slightly sloped land
